The origin on why '%20' is used as a space in URLs

I am interested in knowing why '%20' is used as a space in URLs, particularly why %20 was used and why we even need it in the first place.

URL encoding the space character: + or %20?

As the aforementioned RFC does not include any reference of encoding spaces as +, I guess using %20 is the way to go today. For example, "%20" is the percent-encoding for ...

Since it's not mentioned anywhere in the grammar, the only way to encode a space is with percent-encoding (%20). In fact, the RFC even states that spaces are delimiters and should ...
