An RCBO (residual current circuit breaker with overcurrent protection) is a type of electrical safety device that protects against electrical fires and shocks caused by overcurrent, short circuits, and earth leakage. It combines the functions of a residual current device (RCD) and a circuit.

A Residual Current Breaker (RCB) is a vital safety device in modern electrical systems, designed to protect against electric shock, fire hazards, and equipment damage by detecting imbalances in current flow. RCB breakers automatically disconnect the circuit when leakage current exceeds a safe.

ETEK is one of China's professional manufacturers of Residual Current Circuit Breakers (RCCBs), designed and produced in strict compliance with IEC 61008 and IEC 62423 international standards. We offer a comprehensive range of RCCB products featuring all mainstream structures in the market to meet.

The CJRO1-40 is a compact RCBO in the same physical size as a conventional single pole MCB. For complete circuit protection and enhanced safety. Residual. Combined with RCCB/MCB in a compact design for personnel, fire and line protection. Protection against earth fault/leakage current, residual.

A Residual Current Circuit Breaker (RCCB) is an important safety measure when it comes to protection of electrical circuits. It is a current sensing device, which can automatically measure and disconnect the circuit whenever a fault occurs in the connected circuit or the current exceeds the rated.
