Port Vila, Shefa Province, Vanuatu, located at latitude -17.7309 and longitude 168.3159, offers a promising environment for solar energy generation throughout the year. This tropical location benefits from consistent sunlight, with seasonal variations primarily characterized by wet and dry periods.

Port Vila, the capital city of the island state of Vanuatu, has a population of 44,000, of which only 27% have access to electricity. While the island already has some local renewable generation capacity – including PV, wind, and hydro – the majority of energy demand is still met by diesel.

In the heart of the Pacific, Port Vila is embracing solar energy like never before. As demand for renewable solutions grows, photovoltaic (PV) panel manufacturers are stepping up to meet the needs of homes, businesses, and communities. This article explores why Port Vila's solar industry is.
