Moldova is preparing for its second major renewable energy auction in autumn 2025, this time focusing on onshore wind farms equipped with integrated battery energy storage systems (BESS), following the successful spring auction that concentrated on solar and wind. In spring 2025, the Moldovan.

Moldova's Ministry of Energy is moving into the final drafting stage of its next renewable energy auction, following the close of public consultations in November. The upcoming Moldova wind and storage tender will support up to 170 MW of new onshore wind capacity combined with mandatory battery.

Moldova intends to launch a new tender this autumn for large-scale renewable energy generation and energy storage system (BESS) projects, with the specific auction volumes and additional details yet to be determined through system modelling and analysis. Wind, solar and storage. Photo provided by.

New high-capacity parks for producing energy from renewable sources, accompanied by energy storage batteries, are to be built in Moldova. The auction on this purpose is set to be launched in next autumn. The auction schedule was presented by Secretary of State of the Ministry of Energy Carolina.

With only 8% of electricity currently generated from renewable sources (National Bureau of Statistics, 2023), the country requires energy storage systems to stabilize grids and maximize clean energy adoption. "Energy storage isn't just technology – it's Moldova's key to energy independence." – EK.

The Republic of Moldova has taken another significant step toward strengthening its energy security by initiating the procurement of a state-of-the-art Battery Energy Storage System (BESS). The tender process, launched by USAID through the Moldova Energy Security Activity (MESA) in partnership with.
