Blessed with one of the world's highest solar radiation rates, averaging about 5.5 kilowatt-hours per square meter daily, Syria holds immense potential to become a regional leader in renewable energy. Yet its path toward solar power has been driven less by strategic foresight than by the pressures.

The Syrian Ministry of Energy and ACWA Power have signed a joint development agreement (JDA) to explore up to 2.5GW of renewable energy projects, marking a significant step in Syria's energy transition. The JDA outlines the development of: - 1GW of solar photovoltaic (PV) capacity - 1.5GW of wind.

Syria has entered into a memorandum of understanding (MoU) with a consortium led by Qatar's UCC Holding to develop power generation projects valued at $7 billion. The agreement, signed in Damascus, focuses on constructing four combined-cycle gas turbine power plants with a total capacity of 4GW and.
